Professor Ross Grantham, Dean of Law, TC Beirne School of Law at The University of Queensland, invites you to the

RICHARD COOPER MEMORIAL LECTURE

This series of lectures was established in 2005 in honour of the late Justice Richard Cooper of the Federal Court of Australia, who passed away suddenly on 14 March 2005. It is dedicated to the strong interests in maritime and native title law which he developed over the course of a long and distinguished legal career. The 2010 lecture will be presented on the subject of native title by

Professor Bradford Morse
Dean of Law and Professor of Law, University of Waikato Te Piringa, Faculty of Law in Hamilton, New Zealand.

In addition to his position at the University of Waikato Te Piringa, Professor Bradford Morse remains a Professor of Law in the Faculty of Law at the University of Ottawa where he served in the past as Vice-Dean and Director of Graduate Studies. He has taught a wide variety of courses addressing Canadian and comparative Indigenous law issues, as well as in labour, trusts, property and civil liberties. His career includes appointments as Executive Director of the Native Legal Task Force of British Columbia (1974-75); Research Director of the Aboriginal Justice Inquiry of Manitoba (1988-91); and Chief of Staff to the Hon. Ronald A. Irwin, Canadian Minister of Indian Affairs and Northern Development (1993-1996).

Professor Morse has served as legal advisor to many First Nations as well as national and regional Aboriginal organizations since 1974 in a broad range of constitutional, land claim, governance, economic and treaty issues. He has been a consultant to various royal commissions, government departments and Indigenous peoples’ organisations in Canada, Australia and New Zealand and as a Chief Federal Negotiator on several land claims and treaty issues in Canada.
